MORE BOMBS PLACED BY SUFFRAGETTES FOUND.

One in Liverpool Railroad Station, Another At Reading.

Historic Edifices in England Closed in View of Possibility of Attack.

LONDON, May 10.—Two more of the now familiar bombs with which the militant suffragettes are making an attempt to scare the British Parliament into giving the parliamentary franchise to women were discovered this morning. One of them was found in the passenger waiting room at the Busy Limes Street railroad station at Liverpool, and the other in the sorting room of the postoffice at Reading.

The fuse of the Liverpool bomb had been lighted by the perpetrator of the outrage, but the fire had died out before it reached the gunpowder. The instrument of intended destruction consisted of a tin tobacco box filled with powder and iron nuts, and the long fuse was laid in the centre. The Reading machine was wrapped in a bulky parcel, to which the attention of the postoffice employes was attracted by the sound of ticking. The police were called in and on examination found that the parcel contained a battery connected with an explosive and accompanied by quantities of suffragette literature. The parcel was addressed to a municipal official of Reading, who is on his vacation. The police express the belief that it was timed to explode in his residence during his absence. The clock work arrangement was in perfect working order.

In view of the possibility of further attacks by the "wild women" on the churches, many historical edifices through the country, which during the season are usually visited by thousands of American and other tourists, have been ordered to be closed, except during the hours of service.

LARGE HOUSE SET ALIGHT.

"Arson Squad" of Suffragettes at Newcastle on Tyne Discovered.

NEWCASTLE ON TYNE, Eng., May 10.—"Dunholme," a large unoccupied house in this city, was set alight today by an "arson squad" of militant suffragettes. While at their work they were alarmed by the approach of passers-by and decamped, leaving behind them cans of petroleum and fire lighters as well as other inflammable materials. The fire was soon extinguished.

SUFFRAGETTES SUSPECTED.

Farington Hall, Near Dundee, Scotland, Destroyed by Fire.

DUNDEE, Scotland, May 10.—Farington Hall, near this city, was destroyed by fire early today and indications pointed to arson by the militant suffragettes. Flames broke out simultaneously in half a dozen places in the great mansion, which was a beautiful specimen of architecture and belonged to Henry McGrady, a former lord provost of Dundee. It was being prepared for occupancy during the summer by the owner and his family.

MUST NOT PUBLISH EDITION.

Secretary of Printing Firm Responsible for "The Suffragette" Released.

MANCHESTER, England, May 10.—Mr. Whiteley, the secretary of the printing firm responsible for the last issue of "The Suffragette," who was arrested yesterday, was brought up today at the police court and remanded by the magistrate, who allowed him to be released on bail, on his giving an undertaking not to publish any further editions of the militant suffragette newspaper.

QUINLAN OUT UNDER BAIL.

Jury Reports Disagreement in Industrial Leader's Case.

PATERSON, N. J., May 10.—The jury in the case of Patrick Quinlan, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, indicted for inciting striking Paterson silk mill workers to riot, reported a disagreement this forenoon and was discharged. The defendant will be released under bail, pending a new trial.

WILSON'S HALF-HOLIDAY.

Motors to Mount Vernon With Mrs. Wilson and Family Party.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Wilson took a half holiday today and motored to Mount Vernon with Mrs. Wilson and a family party. The President slipped away from the White House and was skimming over the quiet Virginia roads almost before his departure became known.

NOACLES, Ariz., May 10.—After desperate and decisive fighting late yesterday, the federals last night withdrew to Guayamas, leaving the state troops in control of all points north of the gulf port. The government troops were utterly routed, say telegraphic advices today.

WILSON PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE.

Monument to Carl Schurz Dedicated in New York.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Dedication here today of a monument to Carl Schurz, "defender of liberty and friend of human rights," brought tribute to his memory from the President of the United States, by letter, from a number of prominent men by spoken eulogy, and from a host of citizens, civil and military, by attendance upon the dedicatory exercises.

In a letter regretting his inability to be here to speak, President Wilson wrote: "One of the most gratifying elements of our national life is the part played by men born on the other side of the water, who have chosen America for their permanent home and who have caught the real spirit of our institutions and have lent themselves and all the fine force that is in them to patriotic service in the cause of liberty and justice. Such a man is Carl Schurz and I am happy to unite with my fellow citizens in paying a tribute of the highest respect and admiration to his memory."

A parade consisting of United States and state troops, the Grand Army of the Republic, including most of the surviving generals who fought with Schurz in the Civil war, and members of various German singing societies was a feature of the day's program. The principal dedicatory addresses were assigned to Joseph H. Choate, chairman of the Schurz memorial committee, which raised $92,000, and Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to the United States.

The monument stands upon a commanding site overlooking Morningside Park near Columbia University, and is a full length statute, on whose granite pedestal are allegorical figures representing the principal activities of Schurz, his work in behalf of the Indian and the negro, and his contributions toward the advancement of the human race.

IN REGARD TO MEXICO.

Huerta's Message Not to Change Status of Ambassador Wilson.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Huerta's reminder to Ambassador Wilson of the limitation imposed upon him in his official intercourse with the Mexican government is not expected to change the status of the American ambassador. Mr. Wilson has been doing business with a de facto government in the city of Mexico, and, although he has not been able to extend political recognition as desired by the Huerta element, he will continue to transact the necessary business of the American embassy at that capitol for the present. It is not anticipated that he will be given his passports nor that he will be recalled in view of the almost certain confusion that would follow among the large American colony of Mexico, if the ambassador were to leave the country summarily. The State Department considers Mr. Wilson's work in the interest of Americans quite aside from any diplomatic functions of great importance.

CAUSE OF EPIDEMIC UNKNOWN.

Two More Deaths from Tonsilitis Occur in Canton, Mass.

CANTON, Mass., May 10.—Two more deaths from tonsilitis occurred today, making a total of 13 since the epidemic developed locally. Altogether 357 persons, or about one of every ten of the town's population have contracted the disease.

The cause of the epidemic has not been determined. A chemical analysis of the milk supply failed to connect the disease with the dairies. It has manifested itself in a peculiar manner. In children the symptoms resemble those of scarlet fever, except that there is no rash. With adults there has been an unusual swelling of the tonsils. Nearly all the deaths have been sudden, and most of the victims have been elderly people. Several sufferers, who lived in congested sections of the town have been transferred to the contagious ward of the Boston City Hospital in an endeavor to check the contagion. The schools and other places of public assembly remain closed, and public funerals have been forbidden by the board of health.

The state board of health took full charge of the situation today. Cultures have been taken in every case of the disease and Dr. Walcott of the state board is making bacteriological examination of them. All laundries in the town were ordered today not to take work from any house where there is a case of tonsolitis. The Sunday Schools will be closed tomorrow, by order of the health authorities, but the churches will be allowed to hold service. It is understood that some of the churches will be closed tomorrow.

STORAGE CHARGES FIXED.

Steps Taken to Facilitate Peruvian Commerce Through the Canal.

LIMA, May 10.—Steps to facilitate Peruvian commerce through the Panama canal were taken by the Peruvian government today, when it issued a decree fixing at one half of one per cent of their value the monthly storage charge for goods warehoused in the customs houses at the Peruvian seaports of Payta, Callao, and Mollendo.

WEDDING IN SEPTEMBER.

Time Set for Marriage of King Manuel and Princess Augustine Victoria.

SIGMARINGEN, Germany, May 10.—The marriage of former King Manuel of Portugal with Princess Augustine Victoria, daughter of Prince Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, is to take place in September this year.

MORE LIKE MARCH THAN MAY.

There were several attempts at rain Friday, the best being in the afternoon. This morning things seemed like March again. The northeast wind dried things up, routed out a lot of hidden papers and whisked them about the streets, and made things feel like winter. When the weather man reported "Fair, with frost" every one who read the bulletin in the News office window recognized that the new man was right on his job. The sun has been on duty, but it has steadily been growing cooler since early morning, when it was comparatively warm. Some will object to this last and insist that it has not been warm since early in the week, but they are prejudiced.

One lone straw hat, of the masculine persuasion, was noted. It was dated May, 1913, and looked a little frostbitten because of the weather it was called to face its first day out.

ROGERS TENNIS MEN ALL LOSE AT HARVARD.

Brown Makes Best Showing, Going Down in Third Match.

Herd, Last Year's Champion, In and a Probable Winner.

[Special despatch to The News.]

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 10.—The Rogers High School players in the Harvard interscholastic lawn tennis tournament at Jarvis Field today were eliminated in the first four rounds. The play had progressed, when the recess was taken at noon, to the semi-finals, with Herd and Colt of Exeter and Caner and Rand of St. Mary's School left to struggle further for the championship. Herd, who won the interscholastic last year, was found unexpectedly among the entrants and is looked upon as the probable winner. He did not meet any of the Newport players. The results of the matches in which the Newport players participated were as follows:

First Round.

Parker, Lowell High, beat C. I. Sherman, Rogers, 6-3, 11-9.

Second Round.

Dunmore, Newton High, beat B. H. Sherman, Rogers, 6-2, 6-0.

Rand, St. Mark's School, beat Henry S. Wheeler, Rogers, 6-0, 6-0.

S. A. Ward, Rogers, beat Brewer, Country Day School, by default.

L. H. Hobbs, Rogers, beat Bernham, Newton High, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

J. S. Brown, Jr., Rogers, beat Richardson, Exeter, 6-0, 6-3.

Third Round.

Brown, Rogers, beat Bothfield, Newton High, 7-5, 6-3.

Hochmeyer, Lowell High, beat Hobbs, Rogers, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Fourth Round.

Caner, St. Mark's, beat Brown, Rogers, 6-4, 6-0.

Colt, Exeter, beat Ward, Rogers, 6-4, 6-2.

All the tennis players were entertained at dinner at the Harvard Union at noon and this afternoon were guests of the Harvard Lawn Tennis Association at the Harvard-Cornell meet in the Stadium.

SOME LIFE IN NEWPORT.

Men From the Fleet Have Much Shopping to Do—Rush Orders Not Anticipated.

With 10 battleships in the harbor, and the men with their pockets filled with two months' pay and liberty ashore to spend it, there is some life in Newport, though hundreds of the men have patronized the transportation lines and gone to other places. Those who are in town appear to have a large amount of shopping to do and are doing it. Some of them are patronizing carriages and others are hiring bicycles. They are not overjoyed at the crispness of the air, for some of them have not dressed for it before coming ashore.

The various landing places were ready for the liberty parties when they came ashore and the restaurants have been pushed to their limit. One man expressed the sentiments of many when he struck Thames street and remarked: "Well, little Newport, we love you; for you are the cradle that rocked us when we were wrapped in our naval swaddling cloths." A large portion of the men had their introduction to the navy at the Training Station here.

The fleet being in, the travel by rail and boat has improved. The Wickford line notices it most, because the travel has been rather slack, but the steam cars receive the larger part and the ticket agents are kept on the alert to have enough cars ready to take whatever number comes along, and generally they come along pretty close to train time.

The floats which the city provides are in position and the patrol as usual has its headquarters at fire department headquarters on West Marlborough street.

Early Friday evening the fleet was increased by the arrival of two more ships, the South Carolina and the Kansas, thus making 10. The men from these two were not slow in appearing on shore.

About 2:30 this afternoon the Rhode Island sailed for Rockland, Maine, where she will standardize on the naval speed course.

The war scare on shore Friday night did not invade the fleet, for even officers coming over this forenoon had not heard a ripple of excitement from the submarine orders. The usual patrol was established just before the liberty parties were sent ashore and during the evening the town was full and overflowing with a well behaved crowd of men. Again today the shore patrol has made its appearance, but will be better provided for. Liberty parties have come ashore again, and large numbers of the men were allowed to come over in time to catch the 1 o'clock train, but the ymight go to their homes or take their outings in other cities. This shows that rush orders are not anticipated by the big ships, since 75 per cent of the men will be widely distributed for the next 48 hours.

UP TO THE PRESIDENT.

To Sign Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill Would Shatter Public Faith.

[Boston Transcript]

National legislation should set an example of high respect for legal sanctities. It should establish standards for the guidance of states and communities. Unfortunately that is not the course which the present Congress seems to be pursuing. It has again put up to the President the sundry civil appropriation bill with the same objectionable rider that caused its veto by President Taft. Were he still in the executive chair its fate would be certain in advance, but we shall not know President Wilson's attitude until he discloses it. The measure is doubly objectionable, first because it is class legislation of the most drastic and unjust character, and second, because it is smuggled into a measure to which it bears no legitimate relation. It is despicably cowardly inasmuch as it seeks to accomplish by indirection what Congress might be reluctant to do in open and manly fashion.

The bill does not change the Sherman law in any respect, but it does provide that none of the appropriation for its enforcement shall be used to prosecute labor unions and farmers' organizations, even when they violate its provisions. The inevitable effect of that feature was very clearly stated by Senator Root. He declared that the acts for which the bill "decreed farmers and laborers should not be punished, were left crimes under the law and the doors of these acts remained criminals." This exemption "would bring the law into contempt and shatter the faith of the country in the justice of Congress.

* * * * *

The country is watching the President to see what he is going to do with the responsibility which now confronts him. If he signs the bill it will be the heaviest blow to popular confidence in his practical wisdom and standards of political ethics that it has yet sustained. It is legislation of so pernicious a character that no justification is possible, and the country is not prepared to believe that he will to such an extent ally himself with demagogues and political cowards until he shall prove it. Nothing else that he could do in connection with any responsibility now before him, would so shatter public faith in his administration, as putting his signature to this bill.

No Will Found After Death of Miss Caroline A. Dring.

Friday was probate court day for Bristol county, Mass., and the Fall River Herald says: "At the session of the probate court this morning, before Judge Alger in Taunton, report was made that all safe deposit boxes used by the late Miss Caroline A. Dring had recently been opened and searched and no will found. Her home was carefully searched shortly after the funeral and no will was found."

If this report proves true some in this section will receive part of her estate, if the laws are what they are supposed to be. Immediately after the death of Miss Dring it was reported that no will was found, but it was supposed one would be, as she was a woman who had considerable property and was careful as to what she did. She had relatives here who will receive some of the property if no will is found.

PERSONALS.

....Announcement is made that Rev. Nathaniel W. Conkling, D. D., of New York, has given $100,000 to the Western Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church, as an endowment for the "President's chair."

....The Marquis of Hertford, former husband of Alice Thaw of Pittsburgh, whose marriage was annulled on her petition in 1908, is about to marry again. The prospective bride of the marquis, who is better known as the Earl of Yarmouth, is Mrs. Moss Cockle, who is several years his senior. She has a fortune of $3,250,-000, left to her by her former husband.

....Parted when they were children, 17 years ago, neither knowing the other was alive, although living little more than 100 miles apart, two brothers, Lewis Stooms of Philadelphia and Fred Stooms of Georgetown, are now re-united. A young man knew Fred Stooms, who went to work under Lewis, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor. Struck by the similarity in the peculiar name, he asked questions, and this led to the reunion of the brothers. They had been sent to an orphanage on the death of their parents, and then went to different homes.

....The people of Owego, New York, have honored Mrs. Sarah M. Hurlburt on her one hundredth birthday. Her sister, Mrs. Asa Payson, of Le Raysville, N. Y., 87 years old, helped her celebrate. Another sister, Mrs. Daniel Lewis, of Benton Harbor, Mich., also survives, at the age of 82. Mrs. Hurlbutt carries on an active correspondence with many relatives in different parts of the country, works about her house, goes to church every Sunday and often reads until 11 o'clock in the evening. She is in the full possession of all her faculties and is physically as vigorous as a woman of 60.

LOOKING TOWARD THE LIGHT.

[S. D. Stockton, in Christian Herald.]

I asked the robin as he sprang
From branch to branch and sweetly sang,
What made his breast so round and red.
"'Twas looking toward the sun," he said.

I asked the violets sweet and blue,
Sparkling with the morning dew,
Whence came their color. Then, so shy,
They answered, "Looking toward the sky."

I saw the roses one by one
Unfold their petals to the sun.
I asked what made their tints so bright.
They answered, "Looking toward the light."

I asked the thrush whose silvery note
Came like a song from angel's throat,
What made him sing in the twilight dim.
He answered, "Looking up to Him."

LARNED AND WRENN LOSE.

Round-Robin Tennis Doubles Tourney at Tuxedo.

Harold H. Hackett and Raymond D. Little, strong candidates for the American international tennis team, and Nathaniel W. Niles and Arthur S. Dabney, the Boston pair, were the winners Friday in the round-robin lawn tennis doubles tourney on the courts of the Tuxedo Racquet and Tennis Club at Tuxedo, N. Y. In the first match of the series Niles and Dabney defeated William A. Larned, one-time national champion, and Robert D. Wrenn. The scores were 6-3, 4-6, 6-2. In the other match Hackett and Little defeated William J. Clothier of Philadelphia and C. F. Watson, Jr., 7-5, 6-1.

R. Norrie Williams and W. M. Washburn, the young Harvard team, did not appear. Williams, who is slated for a place on the cup team, sent notice that he was suffering from a sore throat, which would probably incapacitate him for a week.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Between Promises and Actual Results.

Promises won't overcome hair trouble. The manufacturers of Newbro's Herpicide promise nothing which is not justified by an intelligent use of this preparation. The desired end ultimately becomes an accomplished fact. This is the reason that Herpicide has thousands of satisfied friends all over the world.

By keeping the scalp clean and healthy and destroying the dandruff germ, Newbro's Herpicide makes beautiful hair. Herpicide prevents the hair from falling and allows it to grow unhindered and naturally except in cases of chronic baldness which is incurable.

A BILL WHICH FAILED.

The recent session of the Assembly was as notable for what it did not do as for what it did, and in some respects more conspicuous in a negative way. Because of inability to secure the passage of much legislation of importance some measures were allowed to die by inattention which were quite desirable and would have been of advantage to the state or to those who would have been directly affected by them. Prominent among these was the bill for the creation of a board of conciliation and arbitration, a measure which it is to be regretted that the legislature failed to adopt, as it would have been of great value in the settlement of differences between employers and employes. By its provisions capital and labor would have been brought into more amicable relations and there would have been a stronger assurance that justice would be done in the adjustment of disputes between representatives of these two classes. There is need of some law of this sort and the one proposed appeared to be calculated to meet the conditions effectively.

That the measure was not passed was not due to strong opposition from any particular source, but it was one of the many bills which fell by the wayside in the general failure to do the work which ought to have been done. There is little doubt that this bill or one with the same object in view will be presented at the session next January, but that it will stand any better chance of adoption then is a question, as the legislature will be made up just as it was at the recent sitting, the terms of office of the members being for two years. There were other measures which should have been passed, but this one particularly deserved favorable action because of the importance of its provisions and the need of some law of the kind. It is to be hoped that better results will follow its renewal at the next session.

BREEDING DISEASE IN THE HOME.

Some of the doctors who make the study of tuberculosis a great part of their work agree that many of the cases which come to their attention are contracted in the patient's own home, for the simple reason that fresh air and sunlight are kept out of the house practically all the time, for fear the furniture and carpets will fade, the curtains and draperies will be soiled, and dust and dirt will settle on furnishings or ornaments. Of course the majority of these people would not admit that the disease can be contracted in this way and stoutly deny that they are afraid of fresh air and sunshine, claiming also that their homes are kept in a sanitary manner. The fact remains, however, that their windows and doors are more often closed than open and the sun is shut out from sleeping and living rooms for fear of the result in the ruining of costly curtains and carpets.

It is an old-fashioned idea to keep rooms closed for fear of injuring the contents, and one which should never be allowed in these times, when there is such a campaign against tuberculosis in all its forms. It cannot be too strongly impressed upon people who have such expensive draperies and furniture that they live in constant dread of a little air and sunshine in their houses, that preventive measures against this dread disease must often begin in the home and that fresh air must be obtained by every occupant of every room in the house, both night and day. To bar out fresh air and sunlight means perhaps a saving of furniture and draperies, but also a harboring of the germs which bring disease and suffering, often ending in death. Simplicity in house furnishing should be encouraged, especially in homes where there is the least likelihood of even a remote possibility of tuberculosis, which yields more than to anything else to sunshine and air. Where these are freely admitted to all the rooms in the house there is little fear that the disease can gain a foothold.

People should have pretty curtains and draperies at their windows and carpets and rugs and fine furniture in their rooms, if they choose, but not at the expense of shutting out sunshine and fresh air. Human lives are worth more than costly furniture and draperies and many people are learning this truth and substituting simple furnishings for the elaborate and expensive, and so doing much to exclude germs of disease. The more fresh air and sunshine we admit into our homes the more we are helping to stamp out tuberculosis in all its forms, and it does not seem as if there could be any one who would not be willing to sacrifice a love for expensive things in the home to help in the fight against this disease.

INVESTIGATING THE POTTERY INDUSTRY.

The President's determination to have the pottery industry investigated may be a warning to manufacturers not to make wage reductions or shut their factories for political reasons. It may be remembered that Roosevelt when President warned the railroad companies that if they reduced wages for the purpose of creating sentiment hostile to the enforcement of the interstate commerce law he should invoke the action of Congress.

It may be that the President's action in the case of the potters is due to a tender feeling for a New Jersey industry. In some of his deliverances on the tariff he has indicated a degree of consideration for the duties on earthenware and china which he had not shown toward other duties. He might say that he was not more interested in the well-being of the industries of New Jersey than in those of other states, but that he knew more about them. President Taft also showed a considerable tenderness for the potters, and Liverpool, Ohio, is one of the centres of that industry, which is divided between the states of the recent and the present President.

Wages are a larger element proportionately in the cost of crockery than in that of many other commodities, because the material is proportionately a smaller element. Whether the potters are any harder hit by the Underwood bill than other manufacturers may, however, be doubted, and the investigation which Secretary Redfield will undertake is probably designed to check the not improbable plan of manufacturers to create alarm at tariff reductions by reducing wages and in some cases closing their mills.

Of course they may be justified in these things; the tariff reductions may be sufficient to drive them to it. On the other hand, their self-interest is evident enough and no man is a good judge in his own case. It will be well, whatever the facts may be, to have some leading industries which the Taft tariff board did not reach investigated, with a view to determining how much they are likely to suffer from tariff reductions, and whether wage cuts will really be justified.

TAXING LIFE INSURANCE.

The attacks made by some of the life insurance companies on the provisions of the income tax part of the tariff bill which affect them have not been without result, as several changes have been made in the interest of the policy holder. Mr. Hull, who invented this income tax, sticks to it that an assessment on the surplus of mutual companies will not affect the policy holders, which is an absurdity. This surplus is money paid in excess of the cost of the insurance, that the companies may be certain to have the means of meeting unforeseen expenditures. If the emergency does not occur the company refunds the excess and this is the so-called dividend. Whatever the taxing power takes out of the surplus leaves so much less for the company to refund to the policy holder.

Why should the Democratic party, ostensibly trying to transfer the burdens of taxation from the people of small means to those of swollen fortunes, try to tax life insurance at all? Far the greater part of this will never be touched by the man who is insured and paying premiums on his policy; it's the provision he is making for his widow and orphans. They ought not to be taxed on the provision so left for them. Mr. Hull recognizes a part of this and modifies his bill accordingly, but he clings to the idea that he can take money out of the company's surplus which does not come out of the pocket of the insured or his beneficiary.

The average life insurance policy is for $2,000—not more. Why not let life insurance, or at least mutual life insurance, entirely out of the scope of the income tax? The proceeds of insurance are not income at all; they are capital, and capital in small amounts to be enjoyed not by money makers, but by women and children whose support has been taken away from them. To Mr. Hull and his associates the life insurance companies are great capitalistic corporations, and therefore something ought to be taken from them for the treasury to make up for the remission of duties on sugar and wool. Considering the philanthropic professions with which the income tax was introduced, the proposition to tax life insurance in any form is incomprehensible.

Governor Foss of Massachusetts is convinced that that state is making no progress whatever towards the elimination of drunkenness, and in a message to the legislature recommends the appointment of a commission to investigate the subject and report means of controlling the evil. He suggests the advantage of the plan recently adopted in New York city, of having a board of inebriety which may parole a drunkard, place him on probation, release him or commit him to a farm colony, where he is given productive employment and proper medical and hygienic treatment. In this way the offender's family is spared the stigma of a criminal conviction and is benefited by his earnings, whether at liberty or an inmate of the farm colony.

According to Colonel Harvey, the late J. Pierpont Morgan was always ready to help the country in times of financial trouble, and one of the last things the financier said before he left New York was: "When you see Mr. Wilson tell him for me that if there should ever come a time when he thinks any influence or resources that I have can be used for the country, they are wholly at his disposal." Mr. Morgan was a Republican and, according to Colonel Harvey, not only "regarded the political views advanced by Mr. Wilson with honest apprehension, but never considered the Democratic party fully capable of governing this nation." He was, however, willing to lend his entire fortune to save the country from financial panic. That's true public spirit.

The appointment of John Purroy Mitchell as collector of customs at the port of New York is regarded as putting him to the fore as the most likely candidate of the fusion movement for mayor. By appointing a positive anti-Tammany man President Wilson has lent the moral support of the national administration to the state fight against the organization and has given great impetus and strength to Governor Sulzer and the anti-Tammany forces in the battle for reforms now centring in Albany.

Secretary Bryan in his speech before the conference in New York pledges the administration to universal peace, in spite of his failure to persuade California not to enact anti-Japanese legislation. He says the new plan offered by President Wilson to all nations is the latest and longest step toward peace, contemplating time for investigation and deliberation, and this makes the possibility of war remote."

The government investigation of the Friedmann tuberculosis cure cannot be very satisfactory to the German physician. It does not dispose of the matter but merely says that the professor has not yet established his treatment as effective. It is too early yet to reach definite conclusions.

Immigration to this country is still active. The largest number of aliens landed at New York in any nine months for four years is reported for the period from July 1, 1912, to March 31, 1913, a total of 747,993.

Newport had something of a war scare, but there was more scare than war.

LIVING WILL BE CHEAPER.

Radical Changes in Duties Expected in the New Tariff Bill.

If Democratic dreams come true, the necessaries of life will be cheaper and the high cost of living problem partly solved when the Underwood bill goes into effect. Products of the farm, the things which go into the market basket of the thrifty housewife, articles of daily wear and consumption, have been free listed or put at low rates. The following table shows the more radical changes in the duties on the so-called necessaries of life and illustrates the kind of tariff revision which the Democrats contend will reduce the present cost of living, the rates given being on the ad valorem basis, except when otherwise specified, first under the Underwood and then under the Payne law:

Wheat flour, free, 25 per cent.
Potatoes, free, 25 cents a bushel.
Barley, 15 cents a bushel, 30 cents a bushel.
Wheat, 10 cents a bushel, 25 cents a bushel.
Rice, one cent a pound, two cents a pound.
Eggs, two cents a dozen, five cents a dozen.
Butter, three cents a pound, six cents a pound.
Fresh fish, free, three-quarter cent a pound.
Sugar, free in three years; reduction now 25 per cent, $1.05 a pound.
Cattle, 10 per cent, 25.07 per cent.
Fruits, 15.38 per cent, 27. 21 per cent.
Lemons, 24.03 per cent, 65.85 per cent.
Live poultry, 6.67 per cent, 13.10 per cent.
Hay, $2 a ton, $4 a ton.
Vinegar, four cents a gallon, 7½ cent a gallon.
Cornmeal, free, 11.50 per cent.
Bituminous coal, free, 13.66 per cent.
Boots and shoes, free, 15 per cent.
Common earthenware, 15 per cent, 34.67 per cent.
Razors, 35 per cent, 77.68 per cent.
Bicycles, 25 per cent, 45 per cent.
Cotton cloth, 26.69 per cent, 42.74 per cent.
Ready made clothing, 30 per cent, 60 per cent.
Collars and cuffs, 25 per cent, 64.03 per cent.
Underwear, 25 per cent, 60.37 per cent.
Yarns, 20 per cent, 79.34 per cent.
Flannels, 25 to 35 per cent, 93 per cent.
Dress goods, 35 per cent, 99 per cent.
Raw wool, free, 43.61 per cent.

Corresponding reductions have been made on other articles of wearing apparel and foodstuffs, except that the present high rates on silks, classed as luxuries, have in the main been written into the new bill and there have been no reductions on tobacco and liquors.

While the housewife and the ultimate consumer do not come into direct touch with numerous articles put on the free list, they are expected to derive indirect benefit by the removal of duties from such industrial and commercial staples as steel rails, iron ore, tanning materials, wire fencing, print paper, agricultural implements, the more common forms of acids and typewriters.

The Democratic father of the new tariff bill professes the belief that it is a measure that will bring down existing high prices, without injuring legitimate industry or reducing wages of the laborer.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, May 10.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair and continued cold tonight and Sunday; moderate, northerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Fair weather prevails over most of the country this morning. During the past 24 hours light rains have fallen in Maine and Eastern Canada, and at a few stations in the Western Plains states and the Northern Pacific slope. The pressure is above the normal in all districts east of the Rocky Mountains, except in the extreme Northeast and on the Carolina coast, where there are indications of a disturbance off Hatteras. The extensive area of high pressure that overspreads the interior portions of the country is central in Northern Michigan. The trough of depression in the Rocky Mountain region has caused little disturbance in weather conditions. The high pressure area in the Lake region is causing unseasonable cold weather in districts from the upper Missouri valley eastward to the Middle and North Atlantic coast. In New York city at 8 a. m. the temperature was 44, Boston 46, Washington 48, Jacksonville 68, St. Louis 42, Chicago 40, Des Moines 44, Denver 44, San Francisco 56 and Portland Oregon 50.

FLIES IN PLENTY.

ildren Besiege Office With Dead Insects on First High-Price Saturday.

Today is the first of the two Saturdays set by the Clean City Committee for the reception of flies at the higher price per dozen. While the time for receiving these was fixed at 5 o'clock this afternoon, the children seem to have been killing the insects who made a mistake regarding the hour or were over-anxious to make sure of returns and receive their money. Early in the morning the office of the secretary, Miss Akerley, was besieged with boys and girls with little boxes containing dead flies and during the day their number increased steadily. The flies were received but no count was made, each child being told to leave it with the package, and to come again between 4 and 6 o'clock for the money.

At the rate the flies were coming during the day Miss Akerley felt sure that the day would be overwhelmed when the changed hour arrived. It is evident from the returns already in that there have been flies about Newport and that their number has been materially increased. It is also apparent that the energy of the committee will need to be replenished to meet the demands of the children who are on the heads of the flies. The price for each against the flies. The price is 10 cents a day and for next Saturday is 10 cents a dozen, but after that it will be materially lessened.

RESULT OF ACCIDENT.

eath at Naval Hospital of New Jersey Seaman Injured in Fall.

There was a death at the naval hospital Friday as the result of an accident at sea. Ordinary Seaman James A. Winer of the New Jersey was brought to the hospital Thursday soon after the ship arrived from Hooper's bay. He was unconscious and in a critical condition, and failed rapidly.

It is said as the ship was completing target practice, early Thursday morning, Winer slipped on the ladder into the torpedo room and fell, receiving injuries to his spine. He had just purchased a couple of packages of peanut brittle at the ship's store and was taking it below to treat his mates in a little waiting time, and the carrying of these packages in his hand was probably responsible for his failure to have a good grip on the ladder. He belonged in Newark, N. J., and his messmates speak of him as a fine young fellow and the accident has thrown gloom upon the ship.

The standing in the two divisions of the Grammar School League, after the first week of play, is as follows:

Major.

	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Mumford	2	0	1.000
Coddington	2	1	.667
Cranston	1	1	.500
St. Mary's	1	2	.333
St. Joseph's	0	2	.000

Minor.

	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
St. Joseph's	3	0	1.000

Coddington	1	2	.333

Cranston	0	2	.000
Lenthal	0	3	.000

At the Civic League lot this morning Coddington beat St. Mary's in the major division, 15 to 11. This was a fairly good game but for the wind, which kept blowing across the field and made it difficult to judge the balls. The attendance was somewhat smaller than usual. The line-up is as follows:

Coddington—Amoruso, 1. f.; Edward, 3b.; Hobbs, 1b.; Corrigan, c.; Hussey, p.; Hardiman, 2b.; Gustafson, r. f.; Wheatland, c. f.; Sheehan, s. s.

St. Mary's—Blake, c. f.; McCarthy, r. f.; L. Martin, 3b.; Morris, 1b.; Mahoney, l. f.; Martin, s. s.; Walsh, 2b.; Shreenan, c.; Harrington, p.

Umpire—Slocum.

This morning's game at the Basin lot, in the minor division, between St. Joseph's and Coddington, was won by the former by a score of 11 to 3.

The major division game at the Civic League lot Friday afternoon was won by Mumford, which defeated St. Joseph's, 25 to 5. Mumford opened strong and gained an enormous lead in the first two innings, which seemed completely to take the heart out of St. Joseph's. The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Mumford	7	5	0	3	0	0	7	—25

FAST TRIP IN NAVY BOAT.

Aviators Fly From Washington to Annapolis in Three Hours.

Lieutenant John H. Towers and Ensign Godfrey de C. Chevalier, U. S. N., left the Washington navy yard Friday and flew back to Annapolis in a Curtiss flying boat. The trip was made without a hitch in three hours and five minutes, the distance covered being 169 miles, at an average height of between 1,500 and 1,700 feet.

The aviators flew along the Potomac River to a point near the mouth of the Potomac, where they cut across the land, and thence up the Chesapeake to Annapolis. The wind was strong against them as they went down the Potomac. They reported to the Navy Department immediately upon their arrival at Annapolis that the trip had been completed successfully.

Lieutenant Towers and Ensign Chevalier alternated in control of the machine, which, they said, showed up more steadily and ran more smoothly than the older hydroplanes. The officials of the Navy Department regard the average of 66 miles an hour in that type of flying boat under the conditions prevailing as satisfactory.

MOTHERS' DAY SUNDAY.

Sunday will be Mothers' day," and in keeping with the recently established custom will be quite generally observed by appropriate sermons and music in the churches. The object of the day, which has been observed for the past two or three years, is "to honor the best woman who ever lived—your mother. The badge of the day is a white carnation, or a white flower of any kind if the carnation is not at hand, and many of the blossoms will be seen on the streets.

Special exercises will be held at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association in honor of the day.

DEATH OF MRS. FORD (MISS CAVENDISH BENTINCK).

Mrs. John Ford, who had been ill for several weeks at the residence of her mother, Mrs. W. George Cavendish Bentinck, in London, died Friday of heart failure, aged 32 years. She was (Miss May Cavendish Bentinck, a niece of Mrs. Odgen Mills and granddaughter of Mrs. Maturin Livingston. Her marriage November 3, 1906, to Mr. Ford, then secretary of the British embassy in Constantinople, was one of the most brilliant events of that season in London. Mr. Ford before he was transferred to Constantinople was attached to the British embassy in Washington.

IN TRUE SAILOR STYLE.

Men of Submarine Flotilla Entertain Friends Well in Spite of Interruption.

The men of the Second group of the submarine flotilla entertained a large number of friends at their ball in the armory Friday evening, and entertained them in the hearty manner characteristic of sailors. The committee had transformed the drill shed, in which the dancing took place, into a pretty hall, with an unusual display of flags, streamers and electric lights. Two large American flags were placed one at either end and along the side walls were groups of flags of other nations. Signal flags were hung in profusion about the hall and long strands of red, white and green electric lights were used for lighting. Plants were also employed in large numbers, and the central figure was a submarine appropriately decorated with pennants and electric lights. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. E. J. McCloskey, occupied the gallery, leaving the entire floor for dancing.

The guests included officers of the submarine flotilla—Lieutenants Lewis D. Causey and Clarence N. Hinkamp, Ensigns Manahan, Hancock, Moses, Burg, W. R. and D. R. Carter and Logan Gillam; Pay Clerk Gallagher, Mrs. Lahure, Mrs. Moses and Misses Roberta and Natalie Willard, Marguerite Caperton, Helen Weaver and Alice McCarty Little. Lieutenant Causey led the grand march with Mrs. J. F. Shea, wife of the president of the ball committee. Other guests included Aldermen Thomas C. Albro and Frank J. Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. William Goodman.

There was what threatened to be a serious interruption, when the order for the men to report on board the submarines was received. The dancing was concluded at 1 o'clock, earlier than was anticipated, to enable the men to report on board before the time set for the sailing of the boats.

The officers in charge of the ball were J. F. Shea, president; J. A. Meeks, vice president; L. Calicott, secretary; T. M. Smith, treasurer. There were also several committees, as follows:

Management—F. Danesh, chairman; A. J. Chagnot, W. Pfeifer.

Arrangement—G. S. Young, chairman; J. C. Waldau, C. W. Whitcare, F. E. Zink, W. M. Richmond.

Reception—E. A. Mattox, chairman; C. L. Busch, W. A. Blazo, W. A. Northup, T. L. Byrne, D. Low, H. J. Williams, J. E. Mooney, E. T. Boyce, P. R. LeVan, B. Scannel, G. W. Heintz, P. P. McQuaid, C. L. Frans.

Floor—L. D. Landis, chairman; G. J. Powers, J. J. Guthrie, D. B. Mahoney, L. Crilley, S. N. Updegraff.

Decorating—C. Aubertin, chairman; C. M. Huff, E. J. Talbot, C. Kidder.

The men had an unpleasant time in dismantling the decorations at the armory, as they were obliged to stop the dance early in consequence of the orders to report on board, and it was a sad disappointment to have their entertainment thus broken up. Their state of mind and the necessity of clearing things away during the night, rather than today, after they had seen their "best girls" home and had a little sleep, did not improve the situation. The girls are saying many things about the rudeness of such orders, and now that there is a suggestion that the whole thing was for drill purposes rather than real need and there is considerable indignation by others besides the girls and the submarine men. The men have been planning this event for a month, and have labored hard and spent much money on it.

BICYCLIST THROWN BY A PEDESTRIAN.

There was some excitement near the Father Mathew building Friday evening when a sailor from the Kansas was thrown from his bicycle and so badly cut that he looked as if he had been in an automobile smash. A doctor rendered first aid to the injured and the sailor continued. It was all simple. He was riding along, another cyclist was coming along the other way, the street was clear and there was nothing to it until a thoughtless pedestrian stepped off the sidewalk right in front of the sailor's wheel. In attempting to avoid the pedestrian the spill took place. The pedestrian was not touched.

Entertainment by Girls' Sewing Class and Meeting of the Oliphant Club.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The girls' sewing class of St. Paul's Church, composed of girls from six to 14 years of age, under the direction of Mrs. Frederick C. Cooke, gave a pretty entertainment Friday afternoon and evening. There was a sale from five tables, the attendants being: Home-made candy, Misses Hazel Dale and Eleanor Matthews; sandwiches and tea, Misses Katharine Boyd, Stella Hedly and Josephine Rose, Mrs. Ralph H. Anthony and Mrs. William K. Boyd assisting; souvenirs, Misses Irene Sewall and Florence Rose, Mrs. William A. Lawrence assisting; aprons and fancy work, Misses Annie A. Hall, Hope Sherman and Ruth Fish, with Mrs. Alfred J. Mott in charge; cake and ice cream, Mrs. Frederick Cooke, Mrs. Frederick Webb and Mrs. William B. Anthony.

The evening program opened with a duet by Mrs. Richard Boscomb, pianist, and Miss Lily Chadwick, guitar, both of Fall River, who during the evening gave four numbers—"Cupid's Arrow," "The Marion," "West Lawn Polka" and "The American Rondo." A solo, "Garland of Old-Fashioned Roses," was given by Miss Emma Veasey of Fall River, who has been totally blind since she was seven years of age. She received her musical education at the Perkins Institute for the Blind in Boston. As she stood with nothing but a small sheet of paper, tracing the lines with her hand, it seemed hard to believe that she was blind. Her "Sing Me to Sleep" was a gem, as was "Blue Skies will be Smiling Bye and Bye." The next number was by six little girls dressed as "Grandmas." Mrs. Cooke read verses and the children acted them as old ladies, singing one of the verses. It was pretty and new. The girls were Ruth Mott, Josephine Rose, Ruth Fish, Hazel Ford, Jennie Wilkey and Hope Sherman.

A drama entitled "The Day of the Duchess" was given, the cast being as follows: Miss Stone, head of the select boarding school for young ladies, Kathryn Boyd; Miss Martin, a teacher, Eleanor Matthews; pupils—Helen, Hazel Dale; Margaret, Josephine Rose; Anna Elizabeth Anthony; Cynthia, Stella Hedly; Grace, Ruth Mott; Ethel, Marjorie Borden. The Duchess of Petwig, Florence Rose; Sarah Jane, Annie Hall; Daphne Sims, Irene Sewell. All acquitted themselves well and the audience was highly pleased. The last number was the assembling of the entire class on the stage and the singing of "Good Night, Ladies." Mrs. Cooke as superintendent of the class thanked the audience for their attention and assistance. Almost every one remained for ice cream.

The weekly meeting of the Oliphant Club was held with Mrs. Edward W. Thurston at her home on the East Main road Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Elisha A. Peckham, presided and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. William H. Sisson, Miss Lizzie Chase was chosen to act pro tem. Current events were read by Mrs. John R. Coggeshall, who also read the poem, "Tomorrow," by Helen Lawrence. Mrs. Thomas J. Sweet read "What of It?" Mrs Clara E. Dennis "Tomorrow," Mrs Lizzie Chase "A Tribute," Mrs. Henry Almy "Be Strong," by Maltbie Davenport Babcock; Mrs. E. A. Peckham "Be Cheerful," and Mrs. Thurston "When Spring Days Come."

After quotations, the subject for the afternoon "Women of Many Lands," was presented. The book used for the reading was found in the Portsmouth Public Library, written by Charles Morris. The different divisions taken up were read by William Ross Lawrence. Mrs. Coggeshall, Mrs. Thomas J. Sweet, Mrs. Clara E. Dennis and Miss Lizzie Chase. Naming of authors by quotations and twisted quotations were introduced by the hostess. "Women as Inventors," by Harriet Hosmer, was the last number on the program.

The Arbor Day program at the Newtown Grammar School was as follows, the theme being "The Friends of Trees," Bible Reading, prayer, chorus, commissioner's Arbor Day message, ninth grade class; reading, "Birds on the Wing," Arthur Howell; song, "Welcome to Arbor Day," school; reading, "The Friends of Trees," seventh and eighth grades; "A Scituate Chestnut Tree," Hazel Dale; song, "Lend a Hand," school; recitation, "The Whippoorwill," Florence Rose.

The Program for the primary school, Miss Isabella Fish teacher, follows: Chorus, "Welcome to Arbor Day;" Scripture texts, commissioner's message, recitations, Warren Anthony, Alice Vera, Flossie Sutton, Roy Cross and Gardner Clarke; singing, "O Happy Trees," exercise, "Our Garden Beds," school; exercise, "Oh Guard Us Well," by six boys; song "Pussy Willow," Ruth Mott and Ruth Fish; recitations, Macy Lenna, Walter Macomber, Russell Anthony and Albert Grinnell; recitations, "Our Garden," Lloyd Wyatt and "The Wise Old Owl," Wallace Dennis; exercises, "What is Arbor Day," by seven girls. Exercise, "A Springtime Question," Alma Chase, Josephine Rose, Minnie Davol and Florence Spooner; singing, "Tree song," school.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Friends' Church met with Mrs. Frederick W. Holman and Misses Marguerite and Grace Holman. The meeting was opened by devotional exercises led by the president, Mrs. Richard R. Macomber.

A letter was read from Rev. Edward Kelsey, superintendent of the Ramallah Mission, Palestine, and his wife, Marion Kelsey, and the secretary, Mrs. Edward B. Ayler, gave the report of the last meeting.

Supper was served to 25, the menu being scalloped potatoes, sandwiches, cake and cocoa.

The evening program, in charge of Mrs. Macomber and Mrs. William H. Sowle, opened with singing, followed by prayer by Rev. James M. Estes. Quotations were given by each one from the lives of missionaries, there was a piano solo by Miss M. Finis Macomber, reading from "China's New Day" by Mrs. William Lawrence, singing, "Sweet Bye and Bye;" reading from "China's New Day" by Miss Macomber and Miss Grace Holman; singing, "I'll go where you want me to go;" piano solo, Mrs. Eunice A. Greene, who gave "Curfew Bells" for an encore; reading, Miss Marguerite Holman, "Old Mother Wang," the program concluding with singing.

WASH IRON COOK With Gas.

Clothes Washing Demonstration

THE OLD WAY.

Every housekeeper should visit the very interesting demonstration of the "Perfection Vacuum Clothes Washer." This is a new and simple device to lessen the labor of wash day. Think of having all your clothes washed in twenty minutes, and that done without any labor on your part. Simply put the vacuum washer into the boiler, fill with water, put clothes in around, let water boil for twenty minutes, and the washer forces the water through the clothes, removing the dirt without the hard work of rubbing on a board. Some advantages are: It will wash any article from the daintiest laces or sheerest lingerie to the mechanic's apron or overalls. It will prolong the life of the clothes. No wear and tear on a washboard. Economical on soap. Will last a lifetime. Cannot get out of order. A marvellous clothes saver, labor saver, and time saver. Price..........2.50

THE NEW WAY.

1. The I. M. E. is the only Gas Iron made that will keep hot enough to iron a wet sheet or tablecloth.
2. You can do your ironing or pressing in any room which has a gas jet. Do your pressing where you do your sewing just as well as in the kitchen or laundry.
3. With the ordinary family it saves in fuel expense enough to pay for the iron in three months. If time, labor, backaches and all the discomforts of ironing day are considered, it pays for itself in one ironing.
4. Select the coolest room in the house in hot weather and make ironing a pleasure. No hot fire to tend, no coal, no ashes, no steps to take changing cold irons for hot ones.
5. The I. M. E. heats in three minutes and stays hot. The heat is under perfect control, a gentle heat for light fabrics, or intense heat for wet goods.
6. The cost for gas is only about two cents for four hours ironing.
7. A very important feature is that your iron is ALWAYS CLEAN.

The I. M. E. Gas Iron has the following points of superiority over every other self heating iron, whether gas or electric. 1st. It will get hot quicker. 2nd. It will heat better at the point. 3rd. It will hold its heat better. 4th. The heat is rightly distributed over the bottom of the iron. 5th. It can be taken apart in a minute. 6th. Dirt and dust cannot get into it. 7th. Any part is easily replaced. 8th. The hand is protected from the heat. 9th. It can be used by a right or left handed person. 10th. Any part of the I. M. E. found defective will be replaced without charge. With ordinary use it will last a life time. Some of our irons have now been in use about 20 years.

DEMONSTRATION OF THE ABOVE WASHER AND IRON AT GAS OFFICE, UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT, MAY 10.

CLEAN-UP DAY A SUCCESS.

Boy Scouts Give Four Hours of Solid Work and Do Many Good Jobs.

The Boy Scouts, under the direction of several leaders, spent a full afternoon Friday, doing their part of the clean-up of the city. They started shortly after 1:30 and finished about 5:30, giving them four hours of solid work. The squads were in charge of Messrs. A. R. C. Gatzenmeier, P. H. Slocum, Stanley A. Ward, W. H. Huntington, E. B. May, Charles Morris, Dr. A. B. Stevenson, Dr. F. A. Keenan and Colonel George C. Shaw. Each had its own district and many places were cleaned up. Others were found too dirty and a note was made, to be handed to the committee or to the Board of Health.

All sorts of rubbish were found in some places—old tin cans, papers, broken-down furniture, mattresses and other articles of household furnishing which had been discarded as useless and dumped in the most convenient places. It seemed to matter little how near these were to the houses or what a nuisance they were making for neighbors. It was immaterial, however, to be removed, and the boys did many a good job, clearing away the stuff and putting out for the wagons to remove. Some districts were found generally in good condition, in others the estates on one side were clean and on the other needed cleaning, while in some there was little to show that attention had been given by any one to make the neighborhood presentable. The wharves west of Thames street were quite generally found to have been used as dumping grounds, and in some places such a filthy condition was disclosed that the leader and Scouts refused to attempt to do any work there, and the Board of Health must attend to the abatement of the nuisances.

While much excellent work was done in cleaning up, it is felt that a more valuable work will result from the reports which will be transmitted by the committee to the Board of Health. A full report will be made to the committee by those in charge and it is expected that there will be some surprises when the ownership and occupancy of the places visited and the unfavorable reports concerning them are made known.

The clean-up day is regarded as a success by the committee. No one expected to make the city clean in one or two days, but enough has been done to be regarded as a gratifying beginning.

Miss Thomas, secretary of the Charity Organization Society, and Miss Akerley, secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, made a personal three-hour trip about the city and will have some interesting facts to report to the committee.

Weekly Shoot of the Diamond Spring Rifle Club Won By Cory.

C. E. Weeden has rented for the estate of Thomas C. Potter the cottage known as "The Road House" to W. G. Hawkins of Pittsburgh for the season.

Mr. Kiser and family of Washington have arrived at the Luther cottage on Brook street for the season.

Mrs. G. D. Anthony and Miss Anthony are visiting in Fall River.

The base ball teams from the Wyoming and Rhode Island were ashore Friday for practice.

The ferry contract with Fort Greble expired Friday, but the boat will still continue to stop, those who travel being now obliged to pay their own fare.

Mrs. Knight of Providence was on the island today, looking over her summer home on Bay View drive.

Among the new arrivals at the Maplewood are Miss Clarice Burrow, Pawtucket; Mrs. A. A. Mowry, Providence; and Mrs. G. E. Jackson, Annapolis, Md.

Colonel George H. Webb, secretary of the Providence Board of Trade, and family will spend the summer here, having hired the Gardner cottage from Dr. Hates.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met with Mrs. Willis. It was voted not to hold any more meetings, unless a special be called, until September. Refreshments were served and a social hour had.

JUNIOR BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINS

The Junior Brotherhood of the Second Baptist Church entertained the members of the church in a pleasant manner Friday evening. The president, Chester Coggeshall, presided. Recitations were given by Reginald S. Kimball and William Sherman, piano and vocal solos by Ralph Morse and violin solos by William S. Bailey, Jr.; photoscope pictures, "Around the World," were shown by William Bailey and explained by Chester Coggeshall, Victor records were given by Reginald Kimball and motion pictures were shown by Mr. W. G. Stockwell. Rev. Franklin G. McKeever, D. D., pastor of the church, gave a short talk to the boys.

A FRESH-WATER FISH STORY.

There are fish and fish, and some look bigger than others, but when Mr. John Lewis hauled in a trout measuring 16 inches in length and weighing about three and a half pounds he knew he had the biggest fish. The time was Friday, the location—well, that is something of a secret. It is no secret, however, that the trouting party had been out many times and had worked hard and conscientiously before it caught that trout, but when it captured one it was a good one. This is a fresh-water fish story and not a salt-water fish story, like others which appear from time to time.

SCUP AND MACKEREL.

C. B. Anderson had about 20 barrels of scup and 100 mackerel this morning. This mackerel showed no signs that the big ones have all passed, because they were just as big as any which have been caught. The Newport Fisheries Company had 80 barrels of scup, the Marine Fisheries Company 4, F. W. Lawton and T. Mann from Point Judith 3. Fishing schooner Arcadia is in and was towed to Long wharf by fishing steamer A. T. Serrell, to take on ice before going south looking for mackerel. The Alert has gone for mackerel also.

NEW YORK, May 10, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper at 74⅞, American Smelting and Refining 67½, Baltimore & Ohio 97¾, Canadian Pacific 241, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 107½, Erie 28⅜, Great Northern Ore Certificates 34, Interborough Metropolitan 14⅝, Interborough Metropolitan preferred 50⅛, New York Central 99½, Pennsylvania 111¾, Reading 161, Union Pacific 146½, United States Steel 59⅞, United States Steel preferred 109.

11—Making of several new low records, in which important railroads and industrial stock figured, had little effect on the general list. Prices everywhere were shaded, but the dealings were so light that not much significance was attached to the selling.

Closing—The market closed easy. Dealings on the long side of the market were hampered by continuation of the liquidation of investment stocks. Speculation lacked the support of London buying, owing to the holiday abroad. Bear traders directed their efforts against the coalers, on account of Washington reports of the governments' intention to institute new proceedings against certain of the anthracite carriers, and were successful in establishing lower levels for these issues. The general run of active stocks, in the face of these influences, made a fairly good showing, although the trend was mildly downwards. Business was of insignificant proportions, and numerous shares which often are active, were not traded in. Bonds were steady. Money on call, nominal. Time loans easier, 60 and 90 days 5¾ @ 6 per cent; six months 4½ @ 4¾. Prime mercantile paper 5 @ 5½ per cent. Sterling exchange, easier, at $4.83 for 60 days bills and at $4.86 for demand. Commercial bills 482½. Bar silver 60¼. Mexican dollars 43. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, steady. Exchanges, $276,796,703; balances, $14,571,393. VINCENT ASTOR IMPROVING.

Necessity for Operation on Throat Denied by His Physician.

Reports that Mr. Vincent Astor was about to undergo an operation for an ailment of the throat in the Post-Graduate Hospital, New York, are denied by Dr. James F. McKernon, the Astor family physician, and William A. Dobbyn, the young man's private secretary. Both said Mr. Astor has been suffering from a minor malady of the bronchial tubes, but Dr. McKernon insisted that there was no necessity for an operation.

It is true that a room had been engaged in the Post-Graduate Hospital for Mr. Astor's use. That step, however, Dr. McKernon said, had been taken simply because there had been a chance that the patient would find it necessary to be operated on. The room has been given up and it is expected that Mr. Astor's throat will be in the best of condition in two or three days.

Several Senators are guests for three days of Mr. Astor. The program which he has arranged for the party includes a trip up the Hudson on his yacht Noma, as far as West Point, this morning, for the inspection of the military post; tonight and tomorrow as guests at the Astor estate at Rhinebeck, and a trip to Albany Monday to visit Governor Sulzer. Vice President Marshall, who was expected to be one of the party, was unable to leave Washington.

FOR A VETERAN CORPS.

Committee of Newport Artillery Chosen to Prepare Organization Plan.

A temporary veteran corps of the Newport Artillery was formed Friday evening, with an enrollment of 40 members. Howard R. Peckham was elected chairman and W. Eret Watson secretary of the meeting. A committee consisting of Herbert Bliss, Max Levy, M. W. Hall, Chester L. Wyman and Andrew J. DeBlois was chosen to prepare a plan of organization, in connection with a similar committee from the active command.

The response to the call was satisfying to those who have had the idea of forming such a corps. Among the older ex-members who were present were John R. Caswell, Joshua Stacy, Frank P. Gomes and Galen Davis. Gray hairs abounded, and yet there were some who declared they could still shoulder a musket. There was a general expression in favor of the formation of a veteran corps, and when it came to the signing of a temporary roll every man present put down his name.

Just how the association should be formed, who should be members at present and in the future, and just what its official status with the active company should be, were subjects on which many expressed their views, though all tended along one general line. It is this matter of putting the details in concrete form for which the committee was appointed. The committee met after the general meeting and mapped out lines for individual investigation, to prepare for a meeting which will be called at an early date, when it is hoped to have a draft of a plan which can be submitted for approval to those who must pass upon it.

Paradise Club Closes Year With Supper and Social at Berkeley Parish House.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The year of the Paradise Club closed with the annual supper and social Friday evening at the Berkeley parish house. There was an attendance of about 75, including members, their families, and a few guests. The parish house is pleasantly adapted to a gathering of this kind, with its convenient adjoining rooms. The supper was served in the auditorium, the four long tables being augmented by smaller ones at the side, so that all could be seated at once except those acting as waiters. The menu included chicken, potato and egg salads; cold meats, rolls, relishes, cake and coffee, and was in charge of the feast committee—Mrs. Joseph A. Peckham, Mrs. Frank Bennett, and Mrs. Alfred Ward. The long tables were under the immediate supervision of Mrs. William C. Hubbell, Mrs. Harry E. Peckham, Mrs. William Clarence Peckham and Mrs. Howard R. Peckham, who were seated at the heads of their respective tables.

Following the supper a small literary and musical program was conducted by Mrs. B. W. H. Peckham, assisted by Mr. William C. Hubbell, as follows: Vocal solo, "O promise me," Mr. Frank Bennett, with encore, "I want what I want when I want it"; humorous reading, "How Josiah rented the farm on shares," from "Josiah Allen's Wife," by Mrs. Emmie Blair Le Valley; solo, "In the shade of the sheltering palm," Mr. Bennett. Games and dancing concluded the evening, Mrs. John H. Peckham acting as accompanist and also playing for the dancing.

The new president, Mrs. Thomas Lewis Sorrell (Miss Alice M. Petzka), who was a member of the entertainment committee, was unable to be present, as Mr. Sorrell, who is chief yeoman on the Wyoming, is at home on a brief shore leave, the vessels having come in Friday morning.

Arbor day exercises Friday afternoon at the Wyatt school included the setting out of a maple tree west of the schoolhouse, in memory of one of the children who died last month, to be known as the "Mary Perry Tree." A flower garden was also planted at the east side of the building, the seeds having been distributed at the various schools by the superintendent, Mr. Nathaniel L. Champlin.

Owing to the spring work the Portuguese evening school which has been conducted by the teacher of the Paradise school, Miss Carrie W. Sturtevant, during the late winter, has been discontinued.

No meeting of St. Columba's Guild was held Friday at the Berkeley parish house, as the rooms had been engaged for the annual supper of the Paradise Club.

THEIR BEST FORM NEEDED.

Trojans Face Strong Team in Game With the Grandfields.

The Trojans will be called upon to show their best form against the Grandfields at Wellington Park Sunday as report comes from Fall River that the Spindle City boys are working out every day at the Bedford Street grounds. They are supposed and probably have a better team than last season, when the locals won from them by close scores in two games. It is rather early to go into a game in which so much rivalry exists, but the Trojans are saying nothing and are "sawing wood."

The locals will present the same team which worked last week. "Bert" Carr will catch, "Jake" Sheehan will pitch, Ekstrom, West and Cooney will be on the bases, Harvey at short, and Martin, Jim O'Connell and Gillis in the outfield. Sheehan will need to be on his mettle every minute, as it looks as though runs would be scarce with "Jack the Giant" Harrington against the Trojans. This pitcher is a big left-hander with much speed, off whom the Fall River New England League team secured only four hits in six innings.

ALMOST A DROWNING.

There came near being a drowning accident at the shipyard Friday afternoon. One of the little boys who sometimes drift down there fell overboard, and had it not been for the prompt action of "Doc" Shea, son of Mr. Daniel Shea, there was a good chance that the lad would have been dead before others learned that he was over, as he was under a float. The men at the yard kept their eyes on the youngsters as much as they can, but they cannot always watch them and usually it is left to some of the more experienced ones to look out for them.

SUBMARINES SAIL.

First Group, With Tenders, Bound for the Norfolk Yard, for Repairs.

Sudden Summons Causes a War Scare in the City Friday Evening.

"All men of the submarine flotilla report to their ships by midnight" was the order started in circulation about the city at 8:30 Friday evening. It was announced at the submarine men's ball in the state armory, from the stages in the theatres, at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association and such other places as there was any gathering of men from the fleet. The shore patrol was directed to send in all the submarine men and those who were known to have stopping places in the city were sent for.

Echoes of the order spread like wild-fire and gathered new reason for excitement as they traveled, for war with Japan was easily injected into the rumors afloat and the men of the fleet in general and those who were interested in them began to listen for orders back to the battleships. There were about 2,000 ashore, and since perhaps one fifth of Newport's population is in some way directly connected with the navy it can be seen that a real scare was started. Wives and families were much disturbed, sweethearts were driven nearly frantic and near-by weddings almost materialized at once.

To the men "orders are orders," and it is theirs not to ask the "reason why". There was no difficulty in learning that they were official, but "why" even the newspaper men failed to learn. Different sources of information were tried and even the higher officers, if they knew, could not tell. One thing learned was that Admiral Badger was not greatly excited. He was at The New Cliffs, where his wife is stopping, and after a little chat in the corridors during mid-evening, during which he intimated nothing unusual, he went to his room and retired at 9. There was no rushing of orderlies to his rooms or sharp tingling of telephone bells after that, and nothing to suggest that the situation was alarming.

Late in the evening the Associated Press was able to learn from Washington what purported to be the real situation. It was said at the capital that it was simply a part of the general plan of the department to keep the navy in a high state of preparedness, and the order for the submarines to move immediately had simply been given as a part of the scheme mapped out by the general board, which is to be followed by similar activities for months to come.

The instructions received by the officers of the flotilla were for the First group to sail under rush orders, with the Tonopah as their tender. This was taken to be a mix-up somewhere and has delayed the sailing today, for the First group make the Severn their home and the Tonopah is the residing place of the men of the second. This morning these two tenders hauled out into the outer harbor from their anchorages off the Point shore and the work of shifting stores and luggage was taken up, as the two ships lay lashed together, with the submarines at their sides.

In the meantime an addition was made to the First group, which has been composed of the C-3, Lieutenant Richard S. Edwards, C-2, Ensign Edwin F. Cutts; C-4, Ensign Holbrook Gibson, and C-5, Ensign John W. Rankin. The addition is C-1, the former Octopus, Ensign Thomas E. Van Metre, which as been the practice submarine at the Torpedo Station. She is the older of the larger submarines and because her engines are not in the best trim she has not been performing regular duty with the fleet. Her crew supposed at first that they were not included in the call, but find they are.

Admiral Badger, when seen this morning, said that Friday afternoon an order was received to send five submarines to Norfolk for repairs. He passed the order down the line and saw no reason for such a commotion, though it had been suggested that the men be ordered on board ship by midnight instead of having them dribble in later and delay the work of preparation today. He had nothing to say about the Washington report that it was all for practice, nor did he intimate that he knew the men were holding a ball.

Tenders Castine and Tonopah and the five submarines sailed just after dinner this afternoon and are bound for Norfolk, first at least. The sending of them under repairs at this time of the year will remove them from participation in the war games of the summer in most likelihood. Sending them to the yard, though, will afford the forces there a little work which would not otherwise be provided.

A SCOTTISH CONCERT.

Balmoral Quartet of Boston Entertains Large Audience at Masonic Hall.

The Balmoral Quartet of Boston gave an enjoyable concert at Masonic hall Friday evening, which was attended by a large audience, composed principally of Scotch residents of Newport. It was essentially a Scotch concert, though other songs were sung and all were much enjoyed.

The quartet consists of Miss Margaret K. Alexander, soprano; Mrs. Jeanne Hunter Tanner, contralto; Mr. John E. Daniels, tenor, and Mr. A. Cameron Steele, bass. It had three numbers on the program, the first being the universal favorite, "Annie Laurie," and "The Wooing O'It" being given as an encore in response to the hearty applause which greeted the conclusion of the song. The other quarter numbers were "Where are you going?" and "Oh, Hush Thee, my Baby," by Sullivan.

Miss Alexander's selections were "Bonnie, Sweet Bessie" by Gilbert and "The Rosy Morn" by Ronald. Mrs. Tanner sang the old Scotch song, "Loch Lomond," and "There is no spring but you." Mr. Daniels rendered effectively the ballad, "Mary," by Richardson, and responded with "The Dear Little Girl" as an encore. He also sang "Love me Not" by Scott. Mr. Steele's numbers were "The Lute Player" by Allston and "Three for Jack" by Squires. Miss Alexander and Mr. Daniels sang a pretty duet, "Hunting Tower."

Mr. H. Wood Thompson played the accompaniments, as he always does, with sympathy and effectiveness.

ROLLO RINK CROWDED.

The attendance at the Rollo rink is so large that Mr. Soriero has built an inside box office to accommodate patrons. Friday evening's first session was sold to standing room and the floor filled to its utmost capacity, the second session being fairly well patronized, mostly by Newport people.

The morning and afternoon sessions have grown daily, with beginners, many learning so they can skate at the Training Station. More than half the patrons at the Station were taught at the Rollo rink. Manager Soriero has had a number of letters about renting the rink to private clubs and parties between sessions and also afternoons, which he is willing to do, for the benefit of those who cannot be accommodated nights.

MISSOURI INSURANCE WAR ENDS.

Had the laws changed making it possible,

Governor Sulzer

Has had it carried into practical effect for the benefit of all the people,
